"Promise Me"

Visit "Promise Me" on MotoLyrics.com

It's been so very long since you held me in your arms
this way

And all this time that you've been gone

I've thought about you each and every day.
So now you've returned and you want to try our love
again

But frankly
I'm concerned
That you will hurt me like you did then.

What you must do to prove your love is true

Is give me a guarantee that you'll love me through and through.

Promise me that this time
Love will stay

Promise me that you'll never go away.
Promise me that this time
Love won't end

Promise me that I will never cry again.

It's been so very long since you held me in your arms
so tight

And all this time that you've been gone

I've thought about you each and every night.

So now you've returned and you want to try our love
again

But frankly

I'm concerned that you will hurt me like you did then.

What you must do to prove your love is true

Is give me a guarantee that you'll love me through and through.

Promise me that this time
Love will sta-y

Will he promise me
Will he promise
Promise

Will he promise me
Will he promise
Promise

Will he promise me
Will he promise
Promise?
