It was springtime and we were young,
now that's when we just begun see i remember she'd smile so bright and now she's a spaceship every night..
(pre-chorus)
and she's running, she's running so you can't find her.
cause she's just not in there..
i'll keep trying, keep fighting cause i won't lose her
i know she still cares
(chorus)
so cross your fingers
you don't know what you've got into
see in the dark, she'll break your heart and move on
right through
so cross your fingers
close the door, and she'll continue..
see in the dark she'll break your heart and move on
right through..
(verse 2)
she's freezing cold and all alone...
so far away from a happy home,
(pre-chorus)
and she's running, she's running so you can't find her.
cause she's just not in there..
i'll keep trying, keep fighting cause i won't lose her
i know she still cares
(chorus)
so cross your fingers
you don't know what you've got into
see in the dark, she'll break your heart and move on
right through
so cross your fingers
close the door, and she'll continue..
see in the dark she'll break your heart and move on
right through..
move on right through..
she's running, she's running so you can't find her.
cause she's just not in there..
i'll keep trying, keep fighting cause i won't lose her
i know she still cares...
so cross your fingers
you don't know what you've got into

right through
so cross your fingers
close the door, and she'll continue..
see in the dark she'll break your heart and move on
right through..
