The moment we started
The world was a fortress
There was walls to keep us sitting in our place
We were our artists we painted the bright
Creativity is larger than time and space
The generation of the let's go let's go
Will conquer everything under the stars
No hesitation when we echo echo and
Everybody knows just who we are

When I was 17 I had dreams like a king
Come into America but I was just a jerk off
.. D hell yeah I had my chart off
I talk to the white bitches I used to rock ,
Multi color fans we painted multicultural pictures
.. watch them echo lie my ,I remember his dad
.. I am like this bad he got my DNA going
.. that's who I breed it them
A new breed ,.

The generation of the let's go let's go
Will conquer everything under the stars
No hesitation when we echo echo in the
Everybody knows just who we are
