In a dark room she laid her head, put herself together and got out of bed, ain't nothing going on but the sunshine, sleeping all day for the night time.

she called up terminator this dude who really hate her, just looking for protection with a bible and a prayer she really need a savior or someone to save her, screaming somebody help me out why wait until the end of time to make yourself complete, you say heaven is all you need why wait until the end of time to set your body free, right now heaven is all i see woho whoho whoho

yehe yehe yehe
