In my eyes I see clearly
All the stones that make our fire place

In the back yard we own freerly
All those games we use once to play
In our days it seems so strange
All this walls that surrender all the days

Yeesh alwayes ..that we use to be
And when I learn to walk i was in exploration
No places to see no words to say
So only loveing

....it's so much small

And all he heros kept on falling down

When we're young

Building up our kingdom in the sand

When we're young

.. this diamonts in my head

And after college you finally make your plans

So much useless informations that you've been saved

That one perfection but hwo know if perfection is seen any where

Counting the hours

Hoping the music can help take you away

When we're young

Building up our kingdom in the sand

When we're young

.. this diamonts in my head

Building up our kingdom in the sand

.. this diamonts in my head

When we're young

When we're young

When we're young

When we're young
