It looks like a message
But feels like a song
For so long I said you should read it
The bottle it's taken
The ink, now it's gone
So I have to sing what was written
To who?

No one wants to be alone
And she just wanna go back home
Somehow you're gonna try to say
She should stay, would you?
My lonely friend, are you still here?

I found a new feather but cant send this one
The bottle I have I'll be drinking
The birds on my window been singing along
I hope they can bring all my feelings too you

No one wants to be alone
And she just wanna go back home
Somehow You're gonna try to say
She should stay, would you?
My lonely friend, are you with me?

Isn't that ironic
You're playing all my parts nowadays
Maybe you'll find the reason
Why you shouldn't ask me to stay
Then I wanna say
If you took me back to your world
You would never be alone, I'll be there

No one wants to be alone
And she just wanna go back home
Somehow you're gonna try to say
She should stay, would you?
My lonely friend, I believe in you
