Slow down, figure out
What's the story all about
Do we stand or do we run
We've only just begun

To see this life unfold in a different view
It's been so long without skies of blue
We scream this is just a dream, or so it seems
I am not awake, I am not
I am lost in the dark
Searching for a golden spark
(Spark to make my mark)

Finally, we all break free and find ourselves completely
And now I see what I can be, knowing I am ready

Ready or not, here I come
Breaking walls down with a spark of a gun
Fuck you, you always got me wrong
You always got me wrong
You always got me

Finally, we all break free and find ourselves completely
And now I see what I can be, knowing I am ready
We all broke free, we all found peace and now we end
