I see you
A memory
I try and catch my breath
I still hear your heartbeat
The silence as you left

As the tears fell like rain you were by my side
When the heart couldn't contain what was left behind

I see you
Time stands still
You're taking your last breath
So unreal that you're gone
A memory's all that's left

As the tears fall like rain I'll be by your side
When the heart can't contain what's been left behind

So much I would say
Could have tried
I need you to stay here inside my mind

As the tears fall like rain I'll be by your side
When the heart can't contain what's been left behind

So much I would say
Could have tried
I need you to stay here inside my mind

I see you
The future
You're taking your first breath
So unreal that you're here and truth is all that's left
