We came here looking for some answers
All we got was shit and flies
So stand and preach your new religion
Through your fake plastic

Smile now for your long lost friends
A moment's silence
For the departed

A memory that sheds life from our tears
A reminder for a moment we are here
I never thought we'd fall apart (too fall apart)
I never thought too much at all
Laugh to break the monotony

Your touch could never be so close
Step away and save this last dance
Was it enough to say you were?
Too strong yet gullible to believe
That this was never ending?
Was it enough just to say you were?

A memory that sheds life from our tears
A reminder for a moment we are here
I never thought we'd fall apart
I never thought too much at all (too much at all)
Laugh to break down

For a moment we are
We are here
