

Daughter "Human"

Woken up like an animal
Teeth ready for sinking
My mind's lost in bleak vision
I've tried to escape but keep sinking

Limbs lost to a dead weight state
Skull cage like a prison
And he's lost faith he'll ever see again
So may he once thought of me then

Underneath the skin there's a human
Buried deep within there's a human
And despite everything I'm still human
But I think I'm dying here

Waking up like an animal
I'm unready for healing
My mind's lost with nightmares streaming
Woken up (kicking and screaming)

Take me out of this place I'm in Break me out of this shell-like case I'm in

Underneath the skin there's a human
Buried deep within there's a human
And despite everything I'm still human

I think that I'm still human [x3]

Underneath the skin there's a human
Buried deep within there's a human
And despite everything I'm still human
But I think I'm dying here
