By tomorrow we'll be swimming with the fishes
Leave out troubles on the side.
And when the sun comes out,
we'll be nothing but dust,
just the outlines of our house.

By tomorrow we'll be lost amongst the leaves,
in a wind that chills the skeletons of trees,
and when the moon, it shines, I will leave two lines.
Find my love, then find me.

Don't bring tomorrow,
'cause I already know...
... I'll lose you...
Don't bring tomorrow,
'cause I already know...
... I'll lose you...
... I'll lose you...

By tomorrow I'll be left in the darkness,
amongst your cold sheets.
and your shoes will be gone,
and your body warmth no longer beside me.

But don't bring tomorrow,
'cause I already know...
... I'll lose you...
Don't bring tomorrow,
'cause I already know...
... I'll lose...
... I'll lose...
... You...
