Imagine that you're on vacation
And you hear the perfect song
Fast chords, you go crazy
You feel better than before
Imagine that you're at a rock show
And you hear the perfect song
Fast chords and a riff, you sing along.

Next day you're blank out.
It fade away, and you turn mad.
When you're all alone, try to remember
This is an endless road to find the perfect song

I can't recall your melody and rhyme
You're leaving me behind, now you're gone
And I regret, those stupid things I said
Misplaced things in my head, I was wrong

It seems so harder when I'm trying
To recall the perfect song
Fast chords drove me crazy
Don't feel crazy anymore
I traveled to the furthest limits
To recall the perfect song
Fast chords, and a riff to sing along.

This song made magic
This the song that made me smile
When I'm all alone, try to remember
This is an endless road to find the perfect song
