I can still remember when we used to be in love And at times we wonder why it goes from push to shove
Daily you do nothing watch TV and rape the phone Nightly change of playground, leavin' me alone
You should go not tomorrow, but today Bustin' ass hard every day while you burn through my cash
Doesn't make me wonder why it is we always clash
Now listen girl your bigotry has shaken every doubt Just take the trash, don't let the door hit you on your way out
You should go not tomorrow, but today
'Cos happily I'd see that day...
When you will walk away
