It don't make no difference now
You're in a world of doubt
And there's no room for two kids in love

Oh, we should have known
We should have known
There's nowhere to go
The cost of just losing one night
I'm with you

It's all the same in LA
When you're at home and I'm 2 hours late
Cause the damn times change

It don't make no difference now
You're in a world of doubt
And there's no room for two kids in love

Oh, we should have known
We should have known
There's nowhere to go
The cost of just losing one night
I'm with you all the time [repeat]

There was no room for two kids in love

Oh, we should have known
We should have known
There's nowhere to go

Oh, we should have known
We should have known
There's nowhere to go
The cost of just losing one night
I'm with you all the time
