And what is your name
You gotta believe in something
And haven't you heard that nothing
Brings me down

You start with the same
And how does it feel to know how
The feeling inside is gone now
(I will wait)

Backing up is gonna hurt yourself
But I will wait
Your destination's gonna kill yourself
But I'll have faith

This way you're confident
Now that you're facing it
You used to fear the pain you had
You'll take it by the hand instead

So take me now
You'll have your time to notice me
And everything is real

I have to decide
If leaving myself is worse than
The only thing left to know is time will tell

I'm kinda afraid
You're turning me into something
You're telling me now that I kept waking up

You're breaking up, you're gonna hurt yourself
In time you'll die
You're facing up, you gotta save yourself
You know it's right

This way you're confident
Now that you're facing it
You used to fear the pain you had
You'll take it by the hand instead

So take me now
You'll have your time to notice me
And everything is real

Let's be the way we used to be
It's time to fall in love
I am not afraid to see the end

This way you're confident
Now that you're facing it
You used to fear the pain you had
You'll take it by the hand instead

So take me now
You'll have your time to notice me
And everything is real

Let's be the way we used to be
It's time to fall in love
