I was on a street
with a common name
i prayed for love
yeah i even begged
i had a vision of you
that carried me through

now it's just magic worlds in a shaman's dream i fear no man, i fear no pain

and nobody really knows what i would do for you nobody really knows how much i love you nobody really knows, nobody knows nobody knows, nobody knows

i cleared my mind and i turned around grateful to the one who had laid me down i was silent in love pourin down from above

like so much rain it fell and pierced my brains the trees all alive with their colors like the dreams of man

and nobody really knows what i would do for you now nobody really knows how much i love you baby
