The wheel which you run keeps spinning and spinning
Every end you meet is just another beginning
Keep telling everyone that you'll find your way
But the lie just repeats itself day after day
Prophecy fulfilling
Everyday your soul bleeding
Never realized
That it aint so bad
Your path is your own
You choose to walk alone
Blinded by your own light
To all that you have
You better act fast cause your walls are closing in
You better save yourself cause your living a sin
Can't control your own fate so what ya gonna do
Don't you know your demons got a hold on you
Too many choices which one do you choose
Too many voices are singing your blues
Whispering your own lies just to find a way
Do you know where to turn do you hear what they say
Lost Cause
Why do you hang around
Lost Cause
Will you ever be found
Lost Cause
Your path is your own
Lost Cause
You choose to walk alone
Lost Cause
Lost Cause
Lost Cause
Lost Cause
