[Verse 1] Prepare for this gale-force Drapht, be warned of this wind Entering your body through the pores of your skin Sing for a purpose, battle the worthless Wounds I inflict can't be fixed by doctors or nurses I surface from this land down under Strike with the speed of light when I ride with the force of thunder Run for cover man, you better run quick Cause like reptile, acid flows when I spit Got a bone to pick like a vulture on a corpse Intent to harm with my hypnotic force Travel through a time warp, a hired assassin Go for days on end without a supply of rations A strong passion to punish, crave the taste So sick I turn stomachs so you better stay away (fuck off!) This Australian made alphabetical mayhem Trained to slay men, so punks jump when I say when [Hook] Don't underestimate, I'm here to devastate Can't trust no one in this world full of renegades Get my pen and page, I aim for centre stage I'll avenge, recommend it will end that way It will end that way, I'm here to devastate Can't trust no one in this world full of renegades Get my pen and page, I aim for centre stage It will end that way, it's gotta end that way [Verse 2] Drastic tactics enable this plan I live life day to day on Aboriginal land Stand with clenched hands, formed into still fists Even with a drunken stumble, I duck, weave, you miss Cross off my list, now my mind's set to travel Journey through the dark with this map to unravel No torch for light, so I'm taught to write Aggressive thoughts arrive inside, they're too hard to fight Despite, being a knight with a big heart FUCK a damsel in distress cause love don't last Carry a hip flask with liquor to the brim Like B-Boys, I got the antidote to make heads spin Don't play to win, my aim's to derange Leave streets in flames as I multiply my name (Drapht!) What a shame, I use my mind for evil Paralyse those who think we're fuckin equal The sequel seeps out your speakers, an invasion Only thing left I lack in life is patience 'Leash the devastation, nation on their toes Sleeping through dreams in the form of a crow Deformed they arose, my army from the grave The trait that makes words that are sharper than blades Invade your space, can't hard in your disguise Wack spies stand out more than fat chicks' thighs [Hook] [Verse 3] A survivor stuck in a storm, washed up to shore What's around the corner?

Never know what's in store Open a wrong door and it's back to the start But if you got a pocket of cash, then the dogs won't bark Ooh that's life in this world of corruption Money's the fuel that drives hell suction I'll tell you something, every man to himself I don't trust no one when it comes down to wealth (no one) It's just me in this black and white picture It must be that this role don't fit ya Execute with scripture, no life to spare Take the law in my hands, burn like electric chairs It's rare, you can't compare, so prepare As I propel through the air, don't give a FUCK about fair I'm the one that makes up my mind Believe it or not, I'll achieve what I want with time Nine out of ten times I'll break the rules Extend rhymes to bend spines, my tongue's my tool Some say it's cool, I got the jeweller ?abdulger bar?
Life will end up in a full body cast Shattering bones with the tone of my words From Perth, an omen, I was chosen from birth Explode on purpose, this mission is complete Seek with defeat, the taste of revenge was sweet
