"Look, listen and observe" --> Guru [Verse 1] Made to watch, I can't stop, I'm cutting all ties Those that hold me back, it's my final goodbye I tried, you ask why it turned to ash Can only dodge for so long, it's time to catch Plus a map go way back in my books Time to rip like that, my words are my hooks I long look to coat my load of puzzles Cipher's all eyes and now you're seeing doubles My tones give nosebleeds, we stone freeze Hoes' T's, hoes leave, don't think you know me Or own me for that matter, a mad hatter I'm fatter, I shatter when I land so man scatter Fans flatter the man, the crusader Switch from good to evil faster than Darth Vader Whilst on the radar, focus and adapt Be back with part two and more shit you lack [Chorus] {X2} No matter what, observe from a distance You'll get your turn if you learn to just listen It's your existence, any day it can stop You wanna be average or end on the top? [Verse 2] Systems down I'm bound to work from the ground up Pushing through the crowd but can't see through the dust Rhymes tough, no breath to make a next step Signs reading right, stubborn egos leading left I'm cheating death, I'm blessed by above When views clash, no love, then push comes to shove I've dug down underground for my pleasure Fumes getting you higher than fat kid's blood pressure Gotta treasure every day, break away See me lead astray like finding a needle in the hay Never happen, girls tapping their toes to my flows Watch me go off into the sunset high ho [Chorus] {X2} [Verse 3] Powerful energies open the doors locked The electric shock, the cause for the jaws to drop Join dots to dots, still can't figure out my picture Focus on the scripture, leave opponents in a blister Thoughts that whisper works around the links Think before you enter, surrender before you sink Act on instinct, bob your head to the text Now you why they say 'Drapht, he's a pain in the neck' [Chorus] {X2}
