

Dress Your Wounds "Your Decision"

Visit "Your Decision" on MotoLyrics.com

We started off as friends when we were little and every day you seemed to play a part I felt a change inside the day I kissed you Defining moments make us who we are

Summers on the beach we spent together and all those nights spent counting all the stars the love we made was first for the both of us Defining moments make us who we are

I cannot seem to live with your decision
My head is spinning circles are you picturing my vision?
Cause we're inseparable, wonderful, too fucked up and vulnerable
I cannot seem to live with your decision

I woke the day you left already empty You quit on me to travel near and far but home for me was anywhere that you were defining moments make us who we are

There was never a moment I would take back, believe me
I have dealt with my mistakes
You said "Look here, believe me, I've got better plans ahead of me,
I need time to change my ways"

We started off as friend when we were little

I cannot seem to live with your decision
My head is spinning circles
are you picturing my vision?
Cause we're inseparable, wonderful, too fucked up and
vulnerable
I cannot seem to live with your decision x2

Visit Dress Your Wounds page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

