Observing, emotionless
And my stale eyes wander
I'm seeing a calm distance
In the midst of all of this

Don't stop your own love
Your own love was fine
And I'm waiting for you

Do I detect, just a hint
Of loneliness, or is that guilt?
You see I'm convinced your life ain't shit
How did you ever find the nerve to say, "It's for the best"?
Did that really cross your mind?

Don't stop your own love
Your own love was mine
Feel something, feel while there's time

Where have the seasons led you now?
What other reasons have you found?
Where have the seasons led you now?
What other reasons have you found?
Hey, I am waiting for you
