There's a girl
Under the street lamp light
Waiting for a bus to take her home again
She knows
How to play the game
By keeping head up high the world will know her name

When she dances
She feels her heart is flying
Across the oceans - what a feeling!

She dreams
She is dancing and the world is watching
Ooh
She is in the spotlight and the world is silent

And the sky
Is giving rain for the world
But the sparkle in her eyes is telling something else

When she dances
She feels her heart is flying
Across the oceans - what a feeling!

She dreams
She is dancing and the world is watching
Ooh
She is in the spotlight and the world is silent
No one has seen anything like her
In this town before this evening
Ooh
She is dancing and the world is watching

Ten years dancing alone
It's a curtain call at the Broadway
Curtain call at the Broadway
She is taking the stage

There she goes...

Ooh

She is dancing and the world is watching
No one has seen anything like her
In this town before this evening
Ooh
She is dancing and the world is watching
