

Droabie Zacque "Things Change"

Visit "Things Change" on MotoLyrics.com

Every time when I go back in time
Every time when I remember
I start to wonder,

If I should laugh
If I should cry
If I should forget
What should I do?

Should I move on?
Should I forget?
Should I ask questions?

Should I cry out?
Should I do something?
But what should I do oh God!

Should I forget?
Should I keep it my mind?
Should I suffer for it?

I was on top
They were down
I was in vein
They were in pains
I was in peace
They were in pieces
And Now it's all changed now

They want to kill a hutu boy
They want to kill each other
They want to kill a tutsi son
Many lives, are being wasted there

A hutu and a tutsi can make it in the world
If they both are together
They have eyes but can't see
Many lives are being wasted there

It's twenty first century still there is no change
A child of man is dying because of man's deeds

How long will it go on?
How long will suffering go on?
How long will they go on?
A day they change it won't rain

And I know that their fathers would want them to have
A positive change
A positive change

They are ruthless with the innocent
Now tell me what should I do?

Should I fight?
Should I cry?
Should I cry out oh god?

What should I do?
Should I stand?
Should I fight oh God?

They was on top
I was down
They were in peace
I were in pieces
They were in cold
I were freezing
And now it's all changed now

I am on top now
They are on the down now
Forget and forgiveness is what they need
To forgive each other
And forget
Things change, never know when they'll change

Visit Droabie Zacque page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.