"Without You"

All these changes taking place
It was time I didn't waste
No regrets here to erase, throw them all away

Without you, would I feel?
Without you, would I find someone new?
Without you, now I see what I put you through

When most would fade away
It's my thoughts of you that stayed
There's no place to run to if I lost this view

Without you, would I feel?
Without you, would I find someone new?
Without you, now I see what I put you through
And now there's nothing left I can do

Without you, would I feel?
Without you, would I find someone new?
Without you, now I see what I put you through
And now there's nothing left I can do
