Open your eyes what a surprise it's a hundred and five in the month of October and it's only getting hotter, it's only getting hotter.

A million miles of the American dream.

A ten dollar clean

A two dollar ice cream

It's all topped off with a never ending scene

I'm living in the valley

I'm sitting with the tv

I'm breathing in the valley

Get in your car we're not going too far and sip down that

Drink cause it's only coffee bean and it's only getting stronger, it's only

Getting stronger.

A billion miles of the American dream

A ten dollar clean

A two dollar ice cream

It's all topped off with a never ending scene

I'm living in the valley

I'm sitting with the tv

I'm breathing in the valley

A ten dollar clean

A two dollar ice cream

It's all topped off with a never ending scene

I'm living in the valley

I'm sitting with the tv

I'm breathing in the valley

I'm living valley

I'm sitting with tv

I'm living in the valley

I never can, I never can leave
