And she's been going on for days
About the finer art and how we will not make it
But this is just not how it works
And there's something you might learn today
It's not that great at all
And there's something you might learn today he'll
Make sure you go all the way
It's not your style, but that's okay
I warned you
And there's something you might learn today
It's not that great at all
And there's something you might learn today
I'm sure
And there's something you might learn today
Just write it on your wall
And it's 8 am for nothing
You should go
Caught up with someone
Just for one day
Caught up with a rhino
And please don't be late
Don't mind if you talk too loud
Don't care if you're not invited
But I'll be the first in line today
Don't care if you have no style
No one allows you anyway
And I'll be the first in line today, today
And this is something you might learn today
