This world has witnessed, the sickness take control wise men reduced to fools, revealed black hearts presumed as gold despite all efforts, reaction can take control some resist demons, others let in the cold we're frozen and those obtained physically manifest their pain now it won't leave, allowing it to take control, while we'll pretend to be free don't know why I can't fall asleep closed fist I will resist the beast that seeks to possess me
closed fist I will resist the beast, the one possessing
me emotions persuade, and I'll push you away when all have gone, it remains at my side ringing out, repeating notes, I create melodies and that song is what is keeping me up at night
