I never thought I would amount to anything
Now I'm here and look where I am
I could never see me being anything to anyone
Now I am everything
I never thought I could make a difference
My actions could change the world
And I never wanted to rely on me
Now I can, that's the way the way it's meant to be
I don't want it any other way
For once I feel that my life's complete
Tomorrow everything could change
But today I got everything
[Chorus:]
(I never thought)
I'd have everything, now I got everything
I've got everything
I used to think that money could solve everything
Ok who am I kidding I still do
But since I broke my mottos,
Money isn't everything
But it could change to hail, hail the root of all evil.
Why was I so blind to everything
When it was all within my reach
Why did I let everything get to me
Everything, anything, everything
When the shit piles up on me,
I brush it off so easily.
A guilt free conscious and now I sleep
I'm still alive and I rest in peace
[Chorus]
I don't want it any other way
For once I feel that my life's complete
Tomorrow everything could change
But today, I got everything
