This fight is endless....You know....
Cause even if you win this....
You've still lost control...of your soul in my hands....
When I find your bath of lies within....
You'll burst into flames....

These are the days of our lives.....
With the things you'd say overtime....
I wonder?
There's only so many times you can cut the same
wound again.....

So I abuse her! I know it's wrong!
because I'm waiting for something better to come along.

My ears burned, from your empty words....
Things I stored underneath my chest plate....
and time after time, you lead me astray.....

These are the days of our lives.....
With the things you'd say overtime....
and I wonder?
There's only so many times you can cut the same
wound again.....

So I abuse her! I know it's wrong!
because I'm waiting for something better to come along.
So I abuse her! To get me through!
and I medicate when you're not here because I don't need you!
