What did I do to you? What did I do to make you hate me even more? Your acting immature, you make my life living hell. You dont realize what your doing, your tearing me apart.

What did I do to you? What did I do to make you hate me even more? What did I do to make you so mean? What did I do to deserve this complication? What did I do to deserve all of this?

What did I do to your ugly face? What did I do to your sorry little ass? And your the one thats acting childish. If you got something to say about me at least say it to my face.

What did I do to you? What did I do to make you hate me even more? What did I do to make you so mean? What did I do to deserve this complication? What did I do to deserve all of this?

So tell me now, why did you choose me? Your acting like a control freak. Its not my fault if your the trouble maker. I dont get what your playing at. Im sick and tired of your little games, and I dont care about anything. If you got something to say at least say it to my face, oh oh.

What did I do to you? What did I do to make you hate me even more? What did I do to make you so mean? What did I do to deserve this complication? What did I do to deserve all of this?

Are you really that messed up that you have to interfere with my life? So tell me please, What did I do to you?

What did I do to you? What did I do to make you hate me even more? What did I do to make you so mean? What did I do to deserve this complication? What did I do to deserve all of this?
