Theres so much hate, I could hate it all, but petty differences will be our downfall, we must stand together to achieve anything at all, stop this apathy and stop building walls donâ€™t tell me Iâ€™m wrong, until youâ€™re sure your right, but join with us because we must unite.

I refused to preach, because you shouldnâ€™t force, but weâ€™ve got to stop this destructive course,

Reconcile, co-operate, believe and create, end the bitching, competition and hate, and underneath I think youâ€™ll find, that fashion sucks, so do narrow minds.
