I never wanted anything like this
You're right beside me, don't know who I missed
Send me a smile, I know you'll do your best
Your heart's a suspect, are we faking this?

All I can say, it's a big surprise
Watching those colors change
Inside your eyes
Blue to gray, yeah

You turn away
All it does is turn me on
All it does is turn me on

Maybe this night was all a dream
Maybe daylight won't ask me questions
Maybe this night was all for me
A dangerous connection, dangerous connection
What a dangerous connection

I seem to find a way to tear apart
Every discussion leaves you battle scars
When it hurts to love you
I just numb the pain

But I'm having trouble feeling anything
And you want for answers and I can't reply
Take this advances as my way to try
You again, yeah

I turn away
All it does is turn you on
All it does is turn you on

Maybe this night was all a dream
Maybe daylight won't ask me questions
Maybe this night was all for me
A dangerous connection, yeah

Maybe this night was all a dream
Maybe daylight won't ask me questions

Maybe this life was all for me
A dangerous connection
Falling from the heaven

I know I've been away
But I'll come back for more, yeah

Maybe this life is all a dream
Maybe daylight will show me questions
Maybe this night was all for me
A dangerous connection, yeah

Maybe, daylight will show me questions
Maybe this life is all for you and me
Maybe everything I did between
Was just as dangerous as this is

Maybe this life is all a dream
Maybe daylight will show me questions
Maybe this night was all for me
A dangerous connection
