I'm standing by the back door wailing out your name
Wonderin what you wish for
Is it me or another game
And I've spent more nights with the sunrise
Than I've spent inside your arms
Come on baby home to me
I've learned my lesson to some degree
Gonna close my eyes and pretend it's alright

I'm waiting through the white lies
You told me just for fun
Standing wondering how long
I will be alone
And I've spent more nights with the sunrise
Than I've spent inside your arms
Come on baby home to me
I've learned my lesson to some degree
Gonna close my eyes and pretend it's alright

Come on baby home to me
I've learned my lesson to some degree
Gonna close my eyes and pretend it's alright
