this letter in my hand is for my lady Letter letting her know Im on my way home

i walk these streets I find it hard just to stay on my feet been missing my lady for too long I fell into a bottle of dreams (?)
And I cant tell if im awake or asleep Feel like ive been sleeping for too long and all i know though i know i don't need to say all the words coming down the page so i wrote it down just to let her know

this letter is going out to my baby this letter is letting her know im on my home
this letter is going out to my baby
this letter is letting her know

I used to walk along on my own With her beside me I feel I have grown Another soul, another bottle of dreams Tell her that soon ill be near And for her, ill always be here Cuz you're with me everywhere I go

all the words coming down the page

this letter is going out to my baby
this letter is letting her know
im on my home
this letter is going out to my baby

im on my home

all the words I have written but they'll arrive anyday

this letter is going out to my baby
this letter is letting her know
im on my home

this letter is going out to my baby
im on my home,

on my way home, to my baby
