grey and cold today
but lately, im feeling high can not stop me now
sunday

lately, men who knows
nothing at all
we might know
it all, pass the street
sudden need
but I'm
sunday

its a blessing in disguise i only know door
its a fountain full of life and slowly walk by nothing is free anymore we've got to pay for what we believe we walk by

monday, i'm waking slow my bones are cold today tired, smiling on
smile will give my life
away
