Tell me I'm dreaming
My feet are stone and my light is dim Chasing this demon
On his way down

Whatever happened?
Whatever happened?

Spent the night out on a hill
And watch the world sleep sound and still And over mountains darkness spilled Washed me over, yeah

Whatever happened?
Whatever happened?

It's been a long way back from the edge of that Saw the world from the hill, I'm right back where it started
And it still feels like, like the very first time, saw the world like a kid
Yesterday is over, let's write another story tonight

City gates of rusted iron Can't contain the light inside
So I spot this devil at the county line
It went no further

Whatever happened?
Whatever happened?

It's been a long way back from the edge of that Saw the world from the hill, I'm right back where it
started
And it still feels like, like the very first time, saw the
world like a kid
Yesterday is over, let's write another story tonight

After all the time has gone, I'll have morning

It's been a long way back from the edge of that When the world was a kid, I'm right back where it

started

And it still feels like, like the very first night, saw the world like a kid

Let's write another story tonight

I saw the world from the hill, let's write another story tonight

I saw the world like a kid, let's write another story, write another story tonight
