Tell me I'm dreaming
My feet are stone and my light is dim
Chasing this demon on his way down

But whatever happened?
Whatever happened?

Spent the night out on a hill
And watched the world sleep sound and still
And over mountains darkness spilled
Washed me over

Whatever happened?
Whatever happened?

Its been a long way back
From the edge of that
Saw the world from a hill
And right back where it started
And it still feels right
Like the very first time
Saw the world like a kid
Yesterday is over,
Lets write another story tonight!

City gates of rusted iron
Can't contain the light inside
So I spot this devil at the county line,
And went no further

And whatever happened?
Whatever happened?
Its been a long way back
From the edge of that
Saw the world from a hill
And right back where it started
And it still feels right
Like the very first time
Saw the world like a kid
Yesterday is over,
Lets write another story tonight!

After all the time is gone,
I'll have moved on

Its been a long way back
From the edge of that
When the world was a kid
And right back where it started
And it still feels right
Like the very first night
Saw the world like a kid,
Lets write another story tonight!

I saw the world from a hill,
Lets write another story tonight!

I saw the world like a kid,
Lets write another story,
Write another story tonight!
