"Will Remain 'till It Dies"

we walk through the earth,
touching the grass
looking the stars
soon... soon we'll realise that the earth is far from being calm we will cry and remember ourselves and we will die, but the forest inside...

-our earth will remain and the stars ain't falling earth will remain 'till it dies, 'till it dies.-

that the dead
is far from being sad

-and we will find that the aeons doesn't belong to us and we will find that nothing really belong to us-

cause we walk through the earth, we're the universe
trying to stand itself
walk through the earth, we're the universe trying to stand...
