Another place
Another time
Another way out
Another face
Another line
Another cop out
Still I don't know what I am looking for

Another day
Another way
Another reason
Another week
Another month
Another season
Still I don't know what I am looking for

Shout it out to the world
I will fight to be heard
I'll show you what i'm made of

I face the clock
I face my fears
I face my own fate
I face the shock
I face my peers
I face my own mistakes
Still I don't know what i am looking for

If I start to change
I'll find my place
I'll try my best to find my way
Then I might start to find what i am looking for

Shout it out to the world
I will fight to be heard
I'll show you you what i'm made of
Shout as loud as i can
I will fight till the end
I'll show you you what i'm made of

Put myself to the test
Lift the weight off my chest

Stand up to separate myself from the rest
Settle for nothing less
Keep all my fears in check
Stand up to separate myself from the rest

Another place
Another time
Another way out

Shout it out to the world
I will fight to be heard
I'll show you you what i'm made of
Shout as loud as i can
I'll show you you what i'm made of
What i'm made of
