

The Escape "New Direction"

Visit "New Direction" on MotoLyrics.com

I'm looking in a new direction
I'm searching for a new perspective
I'm hoping that I'll figure out
Which way to go

I'm staring at my own reflection
I'm seeing all my imperfections
I'm hoping that I'll find my way
Before I'm old

Lifes too short it's now or never
Make a change for something better
I hope I can find the way on my own
Life too short I won't stop trying
In my heart there's no denying
I know I can find a place to call home

Sick and tired of the place I've been in
So exhausted from the life I'm living
I can't imagine being stuck here anymore
Everyday's the same, I can't get away
I need to start planning my escape
I'm looking for the door
I want something more

Lifes too short it's now or never
Make a change for something better
I hope I can find the way on my own
Life too short I won't stop trying
In my heart there's no denying
I know I can find a place to call home
