I walked away from you
No justice words could do
The pain you put me...

You painted me to be
The reason that we fell apart
Placed all the blame on me
You played the victim from the start
And now the lies you spread
Are buried deep inside my head
Im left to figure out
All of the things I should have said

I walked away from you
No justice words could do
The pain you put me through

You walked all over me
And like a fool I played the part
Blinded I couldn't see
The emptiness inside your heart
The tide has shifted
I can't stand how you make me feel
The veil is lifted
Your true colors have been revealed

I walked away from you
No justice words could do
So I lie awake
No longer I can take
The pain you put me through

Restless I sleep cause I know that I'm in too deep
Hopeless you pray that I'd stay, if you had your way
But I deserve so much more
So I left you at the door

I walked away from you
No justice words could do
So I lie awake
No longer I can take
The pain you put me through
