It's been a long time coming
The truth comes out tonight
There's a distance growing
It separates our lives

I gonna stop pretending
That everything's alright
I'm gonna stop denying
The way I feel inside
Spent a lot of time praying
We make it out alright
I'm falling to pieces without you
Do you feel the same?
Can we make a change?
Does it matter who's to blame?

Maybe we'll find
Buried inside
All that we hope for
All that we hide
Let's forget the past
And never look back
Maybe we'll find
The will to survive

It's been a long time coming
The truth comes out tonight
There's a distance growing
It separates our lives
Spent a lot of time searching
In darkness you're my light
I'm falling to pieces without you now

Maybe we'll find
Buried inside
All that we hope for
All that we hide
Let's forget the past
And never look back
Maybe we'll find
The will to survive

We fought so hard
I held you close
We've come too far
To let this go
Do you feel the same?
Can we make a change?
Does it matter who's to blame?

Maybe we'll find
Buried inside
All that we hope for
All that we hide
Let's forget the past
And never look back
Maybe we'll find
The will to survive
