She never did me wrong
With less than few demands
I don't know how you found me
Don't tell her where I am

I can't think of any reason
Not a single reason why
Don't tell her that I'm sorry
Just tell her goodbye

So there it is
And I hope she never understands
For she would see how foolish
And how stupid I am
So here we are, and I can see it on your face
I don't mean to disappoint you
But you can see I haven't changed

The more we became important
The more we'd depend and rely
I didn't miss my independence
Just went bottled up inside

I hope she gets everything she wants
And she's never too alone
And I think that should do it
You best be getting on

So there it is
And I hope she never understands
For she would see how foolish and how
Stupid I am
So here we are
And I can see it on your face
I don't mean to disappoint you
But you can see I haven't changed

So there it is
And I hope she never understands
For she would see how foolish
And how stupid I am

How foolish
And how stupid I am
