In my room there's a box
In that box, a locket of us together
I take it out press it to my heart think about throwing it in the river
We're fighting g fire with tears
One of us blows on the embers

And then it feels like
Plane trails in an empty sky
Well you mark me the same way

Hold devil hold. Hold out your heart you never holla back, but you can try to hold the ghost

There's a shadow in my room as the day breaks. Cant seem to fade away. Still my lips do t form the words that one of us will have to say.

If this love runs pocket deep that's a bet that I'll have to take,

And then it feels like
Plane trails in an empty sky
Well you mark me the same way

back, but you can try to hold the ghost
