I stood and watched my fall. It became everything I hate.
Why should I stand at all? Its my life you should take.

I failed you time and time again, and I don't know how,
You still see anything thats good in me, anything that's worthy now.
I've ran so far away, so far from home. Rejected, alone.
Somehow, I'm welcome back. It can't be true, I don't deserve you.

I stood and watched my fall. It became everything I hate.
Why should I stand at all? Its my life you should take.

I'm holding the shovel that's been digging my own grave.
If something doesn't change, it'll be too late, there'll be nothing left to save.
But then the storm roles back, the waves die down. The rain is gone now.
I can't explain this feat. What's happened here, now bright it's so clear.

I stood and watched my fall. It became everything I had.
Why should I stand at all? Its my life you should take.

I feel you. I know you're there. Standing beside me. 2X
You are my everything!

I stood and watched my fall. It became everything I had.
Why should I stand at all? ITS MY LIFE YOU SHOULD TAKE!

HOW CAN I GO ON? SEEMS EACH TIME I TRY.
RIGHT BEFORE THE DAWN. YOUR ARMS STILL OPEN
