Yesterday has been understood
But its past hasn't been figured
You would be surprised if you could
For sure, today would be clearer

No one is leaving beyond time
Existence is limited by life
The past is gone today draws the line
It is not dead, it is just stuck in ice

Will you break that ice?

Sudden turn of the process of time
Sudden overthrow
Chronological turbulence
Mixture of the epochs
Sinking into confusion slime
Madness starts to grow
Nightmares of the past are no more frozen
The chronocraze strikes

Chronocraze

You are plunged in a deadend odyssey
Through the heart of a timeless state where the frontier between now and then

Is just a misguiding fate

Memories are free
Recollections are materialized
I hope you have
Only good souvenirs

Some pretend to know
What has been and what will be
The truth will only glow
If you are there to touch and see

Shadows of what used to be Entering your realities
Shadows of what used to be

Reaching all infinities

Past deeds are mixed with

Present actions

The only futur you have is made of expectations

The only futur you have is

Is threatened by the chronocraze
