"Inner Confusion"

Inner confusion, I am wrong here
Everything out is not my will
I forget the sense of life
I forget the importance
I forget that I need to react
I fade away before the candle lighting my way

Everything comes to an end
Everything flows before my amazed eyes
Everything happens and is real
Everything flows before

Iâ€™m over again
Itâ€™s like I've never left this place
Whereâ€™s my mind taking me?
To places without contradictions and colours
Where I will not hurt myself

I support my weight and suppress myself
I fade in time waiting for my death
The advice comes from my voice 'cause I feel alone
I support my weight

Blind, burnt, bloody and wild
Inner confusion, you played with my mind
