I'm losing control
One by one the walls have come crashing down
And I'm buried underneath it
I tried to warn you but you couldn't see the pain
You are just as much to blame
For the coming destruction

Run
Become a ghost
Contrition is lost on the ears of the righteous
Pray with me, give me something to believe
Don't tell me lies
If you ever cared at all for me

It must've been hard to see
Maybe you had to save yourself
I'm where the fault lies
I gave you the gun but you pulled the trigger

Run
Become a ghost
Contrition is lost on the ears of the righteous
Pray with me, give me something to believe
Don't tell me lies
If you ever cared at all
You told me "run away" when I needed you the most
(you shut your eyes)
I lost my soul

Reaching out for something to believe, community, community
Taking back the time you stole,
I'll be waiting, (reaching out for a lie to believe)
I'll be praying

Become a ghost

Pray with me, give me something to believe
Don't tell me lies
If you ever cared at all
You told me "run away" when I needed you the most
(you shut your eyes)

I lost my soul
