She was just a little girl on vacation
She was just a little girl all on her own She was just a little girl on her way home She was just a little girl, how could you

I never wanted you to take her freedom I never wanted you to take her innocence She never wanted you to take her freedom She never wanted you to be the one

why - how could you
why - how could you

sometimes I wonder what's going on inside your head sometimes I wonder what gave you the right to desecrate her body and rape her (mind) pain-nightmares-self blame-hate rape-tears-rape-rapist

you gave her those scars deep inside her soul scars too deep to heal, just too deep to heal look into the mirror, remember what you've done I hope that shame never will be gone how could you live with yourself I wish it happens to you too what you reap is what you sow

why-how could you
why-how could you
why-how could you
how could you
