I never chose
I never argued
With head high I took it with high faith in brawl
And stumbling regards
A darkness in all
No bearable soundness
No reason at all
Now you never claimed
I could act that way
But also encouraged the mess I had made
Between us is all
Just mutual regards
To get us through whatever's holding the wall

All my life we've been looking for trouble
All those nights, oh just to get it back
We've been told we're so much better

No you never said
I could act that way
But a whole lot of treason was bad for your faith
Accompanying foes
Set tones for a sore
And late nights and set fights were common past four
When you wanted out
We set off that night
I know they'll keep looking
I know they'll keep scouting
We'll cover our tracks and never look back
They're stuck in their damage but we've got a shot

All my life we've been looking for trouble
All those nights, oh just to get it back
We've been told we're so much better
